'Lady's Not for Burning' Opens Branding Iron Theatre Season

Christopher Fry's poetic comedy of 15th Century England, "The Lady's Not for Burning," will be the first production of the fall semester for the Branding Iron Theatre at West Texas State College.

William A. Moore, director, has set opening date on Nov. 5, with other performances Nov. 6 and 7. He will be assisted by Robert L. Antrim, technical director of the BIT.

Heading the cast in major roles will be two of the BIT's most experienced actors in Edward Thomas of Amarillo and Marty Hinson of Groom. Thomas will play the part of Thomas Mendip, while Miss Hinson is the girl, Jennet Jourdemayne.

First produced in England, "The Lady's Not for Burning" enjoyed a successful run in New York with John Gielgud. Fry, a young British playwright and poet, is the author of other works such as

"Venus Observed," "A Phoenix Too Frequent," and "Ring Round the Moon."

Plot of the comedy is simple. It concerns Thomas Mendip, a discharged soldier who is weary of the world and is eager to leave it. He comes to a small town and announces that he has committed at least one murder and demands of the Mayor that he be hanged. He is a philosophical humorist and is annoyed when the officials oppose his request and even believe he is not guilty of the crime.

Shortly afterward a young girl, Jennet Jourdemayne, is brought before the Mayor for witchcraft, but for some strange reason she has no wish to be put to death. Thomas takes a hand by trying to prove to the officials "how absurd it would be to refuse to hang a man who wants to be hanged," and at the same time "how unreasonable to kill an attractive young lady who is not only guiltless but doesn't want to die."

Music for Canyon Picked by Board

Canyon will have plenty of music this winter.

Four artists were selected for the Canyon Community Concert season at the close of the membership campaign last Wednesday. The campaign showed the largest number of members in the three-year history of the organization.

The artists will be Yi-Kwei Sze and the Amarillo Symphony on Nov. 10, Beverly Bower, soprano, on Jan. 28, pianist Leon Fleisher on Feb. 19, and the St. Louis Trio on April 21. The dates are subject to confirmation.

Yi-Kwei Sze is a Chinese baritone with a repertory in six languages. He will be accompanied by the Amarillo Symphony, and the orchestra will also present a program.

Miss Bower has sung a number of leading roles at the New York City Opera, and is a protégée of Helen Jepson. Fleisher was one of the first artists selected to represent the United States at the Brussels World Fair. He was also the first American to win the Belgium International Concours.

The St. Louis Trio, from the St. Louis Symphony, is composed of violin, cello and piano. The program consists of selections from trio literature and solos for each instrument.

Borger Youth Killed in Palo Duro While on Family's Sunday Picnic

A family picnic in Palo Duro State Park ended in tragedy Sunday afternoon when an eight-year-old boy fell to his death from a ledge about 20 feet above the canyon floor.

The youngster was Larry Sikes, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Sikes of Borger. Others at the picnic were the J. R. Smith family, also of Borger.

Members of the family said the boy was climbing a cliff and reached the ledge, which collapsed under his weight. The youngster fell to the canyon floor, landing on the back of his head, they explained.

The child was pronounced dead on arrival by officials at Neblett Hospital, where parents rushed the child.

Park officials were unaware that the youth was seriously injured. Sikes stopped briefly at the gate, and manager Pete Cowart telephoned hospital officials.

Funeral services were set for 2 p. m. yesterday in the North Hills Baptist Church of Borger, with the Rev. Elmer E. Taylor, pastor, officiating. Arrangements were under the direction of Simpson Funeral Home in Borger.

The Sikes boy was born Feb. 7, 1950, at Vinita, Okla.

A student at Huber Elementary School in Borger, he is survived by his parents; two brothers, John Craig and James Edward; a grandfather, A. D. Snider, and a grandmother, Mrs. Jim Martin, both of Vinita, Okla.

The death was the first since May 13, 1953, when Carolyn Jean Rogers, a 16-year-old Borger girl, fell 100 feet from Capitol Peak. She died four hours later in Neblett Hospital.

Decoration Fund Reports Come In

Members of the chamber of commerce board of directors are still canvassing businessmen for donations to a fund for purchasing Christmas street light decorations.

With partial reports in from only two of the workers, enough money has been donated to decorate 10 of the new poles, according to chamber manager Roland Black.

The decorating project has been designated a community project, and donations are acceptable from any citizen of the area who wishes to give. The money will be used to purchase the fixtures, and as many as possible will be bought.

The fixture to be purchased has been displayed on the pole in front of the chamber office for the past couple of weeks. It is lighted at night.

Anyone wishing to donate to the fund may send their money to the chamber office.

Eagle Season Shows Fine Averages

With a four-win, three-loss season so far, the Canyon Eagles have run up an impressive set of statistics—both personal and as a team. The Eagles have an open date this week, and meet Tulia here next week in a District 1-AA game.

The team has a record of 1483 yards rushing in 304 carries for an average of 4.88 yards per carry. Their opponents, carrying the ball 385 times, have a total of 1756 yards and an average of 4.56. Which goes to prove that the Eagles maybe should have carried more, and the statistics about total points might be different.

The Eagles have scored 91 points in the seven games, an average of 13 points a game. Their opponents have scored 111, an average of 15.8. Individual rushing honors go to Ronnie Huyck, who has an average of 5.71 yards per carry on 58 carries. Jerry Richardson has carried the ball the greatest number of times, 87, and has an average of 5.20 yards.

Tommy Henderson has carried 44 times for a 4.67 average and Eddie Boydston has carried 45 times for a 4.39 average. Chuck Nester has a 4.93 average on 42 carries, Larry Brotherton 3.5 average on 24 carries and Richard Purcell 1.75 on four carries.

Richardson is leading the scoring, with 42 points from seven touchdowns. Brotherton and Huyck are second with 12 points each from two touchdowns. Boydston is next with nine points from a field goal and six extra point kicks. Henderson and Nester have eight points each, with one touchdown and one extra point run.

Richardson has done the most passing, but Henderson has the best record. Henderson has thrown three passes, and completed all three for 35 yards. Richardson has thrown 47, completed 11 for 142 yards and has had five intercepted. Nester has thrown two passes, completed none and had one intercepted. Boydston has thrown one incomplete pass.

The Eagles have been as good on pass defense as they have been bad on pass offense. Their opponents have thrown 50 passes for 17 completions and 216 yards. The Eagles have intercepted five passes.

Boydston has punted 28 times for 909 yards, an average of 32.50. Richardson has kicked four times for 91 yards, averaging 22.75.

The leading pass receiver is Boydston, with four for 41 yards. Ross Bond has caught three for 44 yards and Mike Poole has caught three for 36. Henderson has caught two for 33 and Brotherton two for 24.

In first downs, the Eagles have fallen behind with an average of 11 per game to 16.23. In penalties, the Eagles have received 37 for 355 yards and their opponents 34 for 334 yards.

Canyon has lost 10 fumbles and their opponents have lost 16. The Eagles have averaged 56 offensive plays per game, and their opponents have averaged 66.

'Kick 'Em Out'

A political party is basically an organization of people who subscribe to certain philosophies and who are willing to work (more or less) in order to gain power in government to see that those philosophies are implemented.

At least, that's what political parties once were. At any rate, in order to gain power in government, a political party must have votes. It must have more votes than opposition parties.

Aside from the fact that it is hard to tell the difference in philosophy between the two major parties, the Democratic party is making a huge mistake. We've had the example in the past few years in Texas. The DOT organization, and others who do not go along completely with the DOT, have been accusing others of not being Democrats.

The voices of those who often call themselves "Loyal Democrats" have been raised against others who sometimes fail to follow the principle of voting a straight ticket. The "Loyalists" say, "Kick 'em out."

That's not a smart thing for a political party to do. Since the party needs votes in order to gain power, it behooves the party to court the voters—and gain as many members as possible, not throw them out.

So in the news Monday we hear the same story from the national Democratic chairman. He says that if the Democrats of the South do not subscribe to the northern Democratic way of thinking, "they can go their own way."

Which is to say, "Kick 'em out."

With much of the South voting for Eisenhower in the 1952 and 1956 presidential elections, the Democrats lost the position.

It seems to us that the historic principle of the Democratic party has been to seek the protection of the government for the little people so that the little people will be free to help themselves.

This has been changed, by both parties, to a philosophy of government giving financial security to the little people so that the little people will not have to help themselves. The only way to accomplish that is to take away freedoms of all the people—and the main one taken away is the freedom to help yourself.

If you don't subscribe to such a philosophy, you are almost out in the cold politically, nowadays. And it really doesn't make much difference if the national Democratic party decides to "kick you out."

But we don't see how a political party can continue in power, or gain power, if one in charge of the party seek to throw those in charge of the party seek to throw votes away.

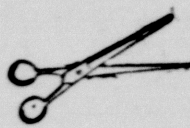

Vote Absentee

If you think you will be away from home on Nov. 4, and if you are one of the few in Randall County who paid a poll tax this year, you should hie yourself to the county clerk's office and cast an absentee ballot in the general election.

You have a week or so. If you can't get to the office in Canyon, or the office in South Amarillo, you can request an absentee ballot by mail. You ought to vote in the election, not especially because of the great choice of candidates, but because there are nine proposed amendments to the state constitution.

What Our Neighbors Say...

Scissor Snippings

(These two related stories from the Moore County News tickled our fancy, and we thought to share them.—The Editor.)

OFFENDED OREGONIAN EDITOR

(Editor's note: The following is a special news release, prepared and mailed to the NEWS by the Oregon Wheat Growers League. The story set off a chain of local reaction, not without humor, as Dumas civic boosters set out to regain good graces of fine Oregonians. The release:)

"Shocked at the news that Oregonians were charged for a second slice of bread at a Dumas, Texas, restaurant, recently, the Oregon Wheat Growers League today air-expressed a loaf of ALA bread to Beck's Cafe in Dumas, Texas.

"L. H. Gregory, Sports Editor for the Portland Oregonian, reported in his October 12 column of the incident where he was charged for a second slice of bread. Gregory stopped in this Northern Texas town while on a football trip.

"ALA bread is baked in Pendleton with bulgur wheat, a product made from Oregon soft white bread. Packed with the loaf was Gregory's sports column giving details of the incident. League officials stated they were sympathetic to Gregory's reaction particularly because there is only about three cents worth of wheat in a loaf of bread."

The column itself, called Greg's Gossip, included the charged Dumas incident under a subtitle, "Oh, no, not this in good old Texas?" and stated as follows:

"We have said so many good things about Texas, here's for one that got our goat. We were having one of our midnight snacks of three fried eggs, basted (no, they didn't include potatoes, but these wouldn't have been the real German fried if they had, so we didn't insist). But we did ask for 'plenty of bread'... and got, what? One slice, but cut diagonally into two 3-cornered pieces.

"More bread," we called in less than a minute, after that puny slice had gone. We got it, yes—but at a price, actually, we were charged for a second one slice, note that again—of bread!

"That really was a crushing shock, in Texas, of all places; but in view of Texas' fine roads and highway signs, we forgave it, and will only mention that this happened in the town of Dumas, at an eating place called Beck's. If Mr. Beck ever comes to Oregon and finds himself hungry for bread, we'll present him with a whole loaf, gratis."

'NOT SO,' SAYS CAFE OWNER

TO BREAD CHARGE COMPLAINT

Dumas co-owner C. M. Beck this week labeled "Preposterous," a complaint made by a West Coast columnist that Beck's Cafe in Dumas was charging Oregonians for the second slice of bread with their meals.

L. H. Gregory, Sports Editor of the Portland Oregonian, had complained in his October 12 column, that Beck's Cafe in Dumas had, on a recent trip through Dumas, charged him for a second slice of bread with his meal.

Beck, in an interview with the NEWS, made emphatic denial of the charge and said his establishment had never charged a single customer with extra bread with meals... "and we don't charge for extra coffee either," added the good-natured cafe owner. He said the "extra charge," if there was one, probably was for the "third egg" referred to in Gregory's column.

In answer to the Oregon Wheat Growers League, which air-expressed a loaf of Oregon-made bread to Beck's Cafe, the local operator was quick to point out that his establishment serves only super-thick, Texas-style slices of bread (see picture) with meals served there.

Beck guessed that his bread slices would contain about the same amount of bread as four of the ordinary slices, such as those sent from Oregon, and that if Sports Editor Gregory asked for a second slice, he received it at no additional charge. This would have been the equivalent of eight (8) slices of Oregonian bread.

"That's a lot of bread... even for a Texan!" Beck reflected, "however, if he asked for it, he certainly wasn't charged for it."

After the Oregon Wheat Growers League moved into the complaint picture, there was an irritated rumbling in the camp of high officials from among Texas wheat producers.

Carroll Boyd, president of the Texas Wheat Growers Association, who resides in Dumas, refused to comment on the quality of Oregon wheat, saying only that, "I have some good friends in the Oregon Wheat Growers League, and wouldn't want to ridicule such fine fellows by degrading their wheat."

Boyd, past vice-president of the National Wheat Growers Association, would not deny that he prefers Texas-made bread over that sampled from the Northwest.

Also pouncing to the defense of Dumas was Chamber of Commerce president Jack Elliott, who, like other dignitaries "investigating" the bread-charge incident, made columnist Gregory an honorary "Ding Dong Daddy" and expressed the belief that Oregonians certainly aren't being inflicted with extra charges for Dumas products and services.

Elliott said that despite Mr. Gregory's "friendly mistake," the Portland columnist will be an honored guest when next he visits Dumas.

"There'll be free lodgings, free entertainment, including movies and bowling, and free meals (at Beck's)... with plenty of good, Texas bread," the C of C official said.

Dumas Mayor H. S. McMurtry likewise looked in on the local bread situation and came away apparently convinced that a special council meeting would not be necessary in the interest of bringing the true facts to light.

Asked about samples of the thick-sliced bread served at Beck's, the Mayor said, "Now, that is bread!" Asked about a sample of bread sent from Oregon, the Mayor said, "Now, that is bread!"

A special key to the city has been reserved for Editor Gregory, when, and if he returns to Dumas.

A Dumas attorney, who refused to give his name, told the NEWS by telephone that he has advised his client, owner of the accused cafe, to drop intended libel suit charges, and said only that "eating their own, and not Texas-made, bread is punishment enough for the Oregon gentleman and his wheat producer friends."

Copies of Beck's denial, together with an apology for any misunderstanding which may have resulted from the incident, have been sent to the Editor of the Portland Oregonian, along with a friendly request from Dumas boosters that the paper make a retraction in the interest of clearing this city's good name. Officials here expressed the hope that Editor Gregory will take the criticism in the light, humorous manner in which it was offered.

Newspapers are keeping modern. In 1957, over $87,000,000 was invested by newspapers to improve plants, equipment and product.

Ay, tear her battered sides all down

And relegate her to the dump

She has given valiant service

No more will smoke belch forth

From her capacious maw

She must make way for progress

Regardless of the law

She has stood through rain and shine

Greeting friend and foe alike

All the way from grownups

Down to the little tyke

This museum piece so faithful

Has served her time so well

And if she but could talk

What a story she would tell

For, oh, the many secrets

Hidden within her breast

If she but could reveal them

'Twas create much unrest

No more will foul black smoke

Be wafted on the breeze

Our eyes will burn no more

No more we'll have to sneeze

No more we'll feel like strangling

As though about to choke

Nor will be ever know

What all went up in smoke

'Tis hard to part with relics

It makes one feel so bad

Excuse me while I shed a tear

In memory so sad

Oh, better that her battered hulk

Be in the museum placed

But who would care for the old gal

Smoke-blackened and defaced

Or, with a coat of paint

Mayhap she'd stand another year

In silent contemplation

Our aching hearts to cheer

It seems a shame to desecrate her

While the battle round her rages

As we'll try to do away

With the Rock of Ages

We hate to see her go

Too bad it couldn't be later

Farewell, farewell old faithful

Our own incinerator.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

The construction of terraces in itself does not control erosion. How well the terraces work after a heavy rain depends a lot on the way they are farmed.

On uniform slopes, terraces can be built almost parallel which makes farming operations easier.

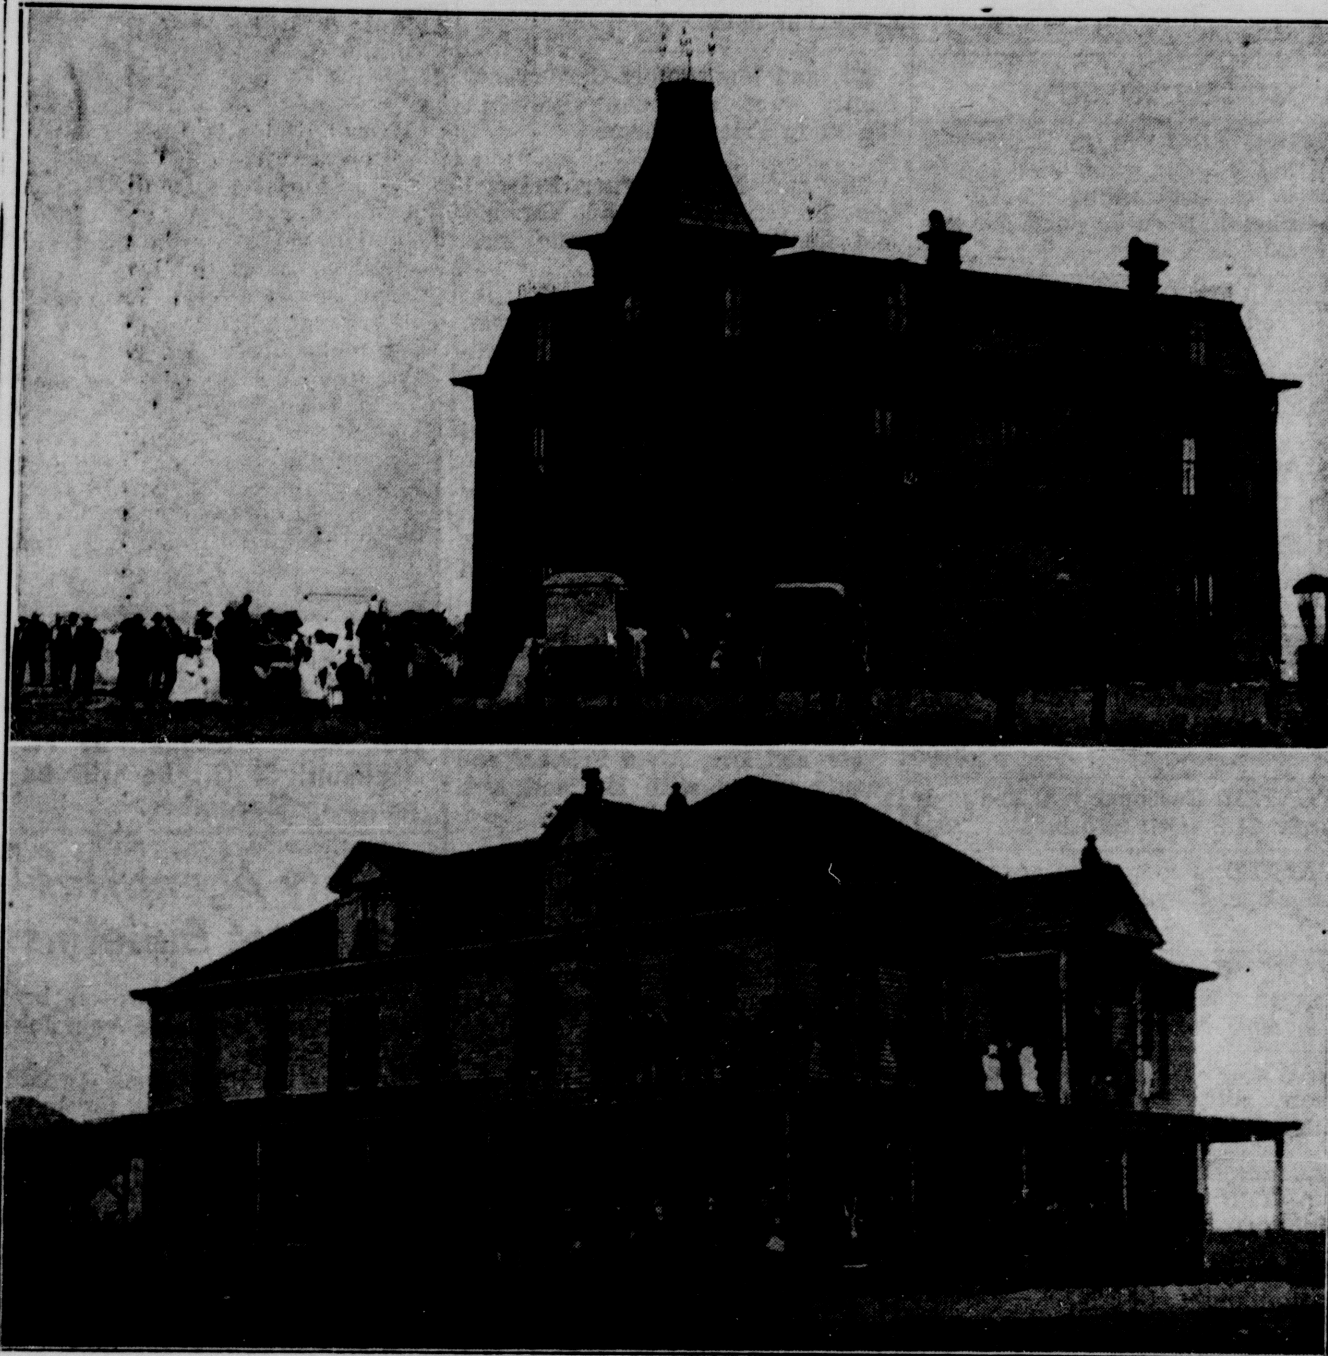

Plowing terraced land with the conventional one-way plow over a period of years will eventually make a low or dished area about halfway between the terraces. This will cause an uneven distribution of water which results in more difficulty in farming. This can be prevented by using a two-way plow. In using the two-way plow the terrace channel is the deadfurrow. Soil is thrown to the ridge of the terraces on each side. This method of plowing keeps the channel open, keeps the ridges plowed up instead of plowing them down, and most of all you maintain a constant slope between terraces and no benches or dished areas in the soil develop.

Low areas in the terraces should be filled in to maintain proper height and width of the terrace. If at all possible, farm roads should not cross a terrace. If it is necessary, watch the area around the road closely and do not let the area become so low that water may go over and wash out a gully during a heavy rain.

If terraces are not properly maintained it is in many cases best for the terraces not to be built because a low area or a stopped-up channel will result in a more concentration of water and possibly result in deeper gullies.

News Want Ads Got Results

Last year, gasoline and oil advertisers invested over $30,000,000 in newspaper advertising.

If Robert Burns had been a woman, his famous couplet might have read something like this:

Alas, the power our eyes do chance us

To read oursel's in others' glances!

Call it feminine intuition or what you will. We women do have an unfortunate genius for intercepting glances we wish we had never seen; of catching an expression in another's eyes before the veil of polite deception is lowered. Such a glimpse into the mind of friend or stranger may change the pattern of our living.

The offhand, "I didn't even notice!" may cover a sense of surprise, dismay, anger or embarrassment. What we'd say instead, if we were honest, would be, "You think I'm stupid!" Or "That remark was crude, but it isn't fair to judge me by it."

What do we learn from these smuggled glances? Oh, how our child sees us, as he looks for the first time through grown-up eyes; what our spouse observes as we appear in public with dishevelled hair or sagging petticoat; what an acquaintance, sitting in the next car at a traffic light, thinks of our off-guard manners with the spouse. Thoughts that lie carefully hidden from us most of the time, behind stacked-up cartons of love, habit or conventions, are suddenly revealed in a flash of understanding that well-nigh overpowers us.

And we plant the seed of memory in our hearts: "I'll prove it isn't true!" Or "I'll overcome this weakness." If the soil is rich, we grow new character; if it's poor, the seed doesn't sprout.

More than 44 million of the 50 million U. S. households will receive a newspaper today.

WON'T TAKE LONG

It was the bobby-soxer's turn in the busy phone booth. As she entered the booth, she turned to the line behind her. "Don't worry, I won't be long," she said. "I just want to hang up on my boy friend."

In 1922, several makes of cars introduced gasoline gauges on their instrument panels.

More automotive advertising dollars are invested in newspapers than in any other medium.

HERE TODAY!
Ford brings Thunderbird elegance to the low-price field with

THE WORLD'S MOST BEAUTIFULLY PROPORTIONED CARS

These Fords you've got to try! Far left is the new Thunderbird... center, the new Custom 300 Tudor Sedan... and above, the 9-passenger Country Sedan.

AWARDED THE GOLD MEDAL for beautiful proportions—by the Comité Français de l'Élégance at the Brussels World's Fair

Styled, powered and priced for today's driving! There never was a Ford like this before! Its classic new design was awarded the Gold Medal of the Comité Français de l'Élégance at the Brussels World's Fair! With new Thunderbird flavor in each lively line and tastefully new interiors, these 59 Fords are beautifully proportioned for elegant driving.

Power, performance and economy are served up in new proportions, too. All standard Ford engines—Six or Thunderbird V-8—thrive on regular gasoline at regular prices. You save up to 5 cents on each gallon! There's a new aluminum muffler that normally will last twice as long as conventional mufflers used on other cars... full-flow oil filtration that lets you change oil at 4000 miles instead of the 1000 often recommended... new Tyrex cord tires for greater economy and safety... a brilliant new Diamond Lustre Baked Enamel Finish that's so durable you won't have to wax it ever... and two new economy power-transmission teams that will bring you savings automatically. That's why we say, for '59, Ford is truly a masterpiece of underpricing!

NEW economy team Number One! Get all the high performance of a completely new Fordomatic Drive teamed with a Six or Thunderbird V-8—at a price that puts automatic driving within everyone's car budget. It's a simplified Fordomatic with nearly 1/3 fewer parts. NEW economy team Number Two! Take Ford's versatile new Cruise-O-Matic Drive, add the responsiveness of Thunderbird Special V-8 power and you have the last word in automatic driving plus the "built-in" overdrive savings of an economy-geared axle.

Altogether NEW in everything you can see, feel or touch!

OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Federal Highway Program

There are several schools of thought relating to Federal aid for any purpose, but Federal aid to highway construction has been with us for some time. This type of program has been expanded many, many times by the new highway program adopted by the Federal government in 1956.

I say expanded many, many times, because the magnitude of the program staggers the imagination. The network is intended to link most of the cities of the nation with populations of 50,000 or more. Many smaller cities, towns, and villages will also be served by this network.

Efforts were made to follow present highway routes. For instance, the famous Highway 66 with which we are all so familiar, will be utilized but will be known as Interstate Highway 40. The routing of these roads has been left primarily with State highway agencies.

Roads retained veto powers only. I have been advised by the Bureau that such powers would be exercised only in extreme cases where the routes chosen by the State agencies were not in conformity to the general requirements and specifications of the Federal highway program, the Bureau taking the position that it would be preferable to permit State agencies to determine the routings of the highways within their respective States.

The Federal contribution in this program will be far in excess of the contributions in previous programs. Under this program the Federal government will provide 90 per cent of the cost, which leaves 10 per cent to be provided by the States.

This was intended to provide a method of leaving much of the State funds in the hands of the States to be used for roads and streets under the 50-50 State and Federal matching funds program.

The program was intended to be worked out over a 13-year period and brought to completion by the end of that time. It is anticipated that it could be completed earlier.

The cost of this program will be in excess of $50 billion, more than half of which will be spent on the interstate system. The interstate system will be controlled, access, or limited-access, highways, which means there will be no crossroads or intersections on the roads, and no railroad grade crossings.

Much of the thinking that was employed in the designing of this highway system was prompted by the anticipation that by 1975 there would be at least 100 million cars on the highways of this nation. With only 65 million cars in 1956, 40,000 people were killed and 13,500,000 injured, many suffering permanent disabilities. The property loss was tragic, to say nothing of the tremendous loss of man-hours and its effect on the national product.

From the standpoint of the economy, the leading proponents of the program foresee and predict great benefits. They point out that during the period of construction an average of 880,000 jobs concerning 190 industries will be generated. Steel requirements will exceed present highway steel demands by more than five times. Fuel requirements will be doubled.

An estimated 12 billion gallons of paint, and 12 million new traffic signs will be needed. 1,339 million barrels of cement, 710 million tons of aggregate and 128 million tons of bituminous material will be used. The markets for aluminum, seeds, fertilizer, chemicals, engineering tools, electronic computers, and a host of other items will be immeasurably increased.

World Trade and Foreign Aid

Many students of world problems are writing at length recently on the world trade and foreign aid. A recent book was written by Howard K. Smith and five other correspondents of CBS News. This book was published by Smith, Keynes, and Marshall, Publishers, as one of its ECONOMICA BOOKS, books on economics, politics and business. The name of the book is "The Ruble War" and is referred to as a study of Russia's economic penetration versus U. S. foreign aid.

It is not my purpose to be selling books for anyone, and I certainly am not advising any of my readers to make a mad dash to the book store to purchase one of these books. However, it does have some statements in it that are somewhat alarming to me, which I wanted to quote.

I certainly wanted to identify these statements, which seem to be the general object of the publication, and with which I would certainly take issue. On page 71 of the publication is the following statement:

"In conclusion, I would reaffirm two points. One is that the American people must be aroused to the urgent necessity of increasing and improving our foreign aid. The American people are not so aroused at the present time.

"The other point is that Congress must be made to realize that this effort is a necessary part of our national life. We should not have to debate foreign aid and reciprocal trade as strange and controversial proposals each year. They must be common-places, the natural things to do. Debate on them should not be as to whether they should be done; it should be limited to the question, what is the most effective way to do them?"

The adoption of such a doctrine would, in my opinion, seriously threaten many segments of our economy, as well as endanger some of the basic rights which we should be seeking to preserve under our Constitution.

For decades, newspaper circulation has kept pace with the increasing number of U. S. households. Since 1920, the number of U. S. households has more than doubled; newspaper circulation also has more than doubled.

The tire and tube industry in 1957 increased its investment in newspaper advertising by 39 per cent over the previous year.

Texas Press Association

More dust is being stirred up over issues that over candidates, in the build-up to the General Election, Nov. 4.

Texans will vote on nine proposed amendments to the Constitution. One of them, providing for annual sessions and salaries in the Legislature, is the subject of hot debate.

A condensed outline of the amendments and arguments being presented for and against follows: (Numbers correspond to the order in which amendments will appear on the ballot.)

1. WOULD PROVIDE FOR annual sessions of the Legislature. Odd-year sessions would be devoted to all matters, as before, and even-year sessions would attend to budgeting and emergency matters. Legislators would receive an annual salary of $7,500 (instead of $25 a day for a 120-day session) and an unspecified amount for "expenses of office."

PRO: Supporters say annual sessions will allow more time for consideration of important matters. State financial planning could be done for one year at a time. No more having to "guesstimate" financial needs for two years ahead. Better pay would be a step toward attracting the best qualified persons to lawmaking. Such influential and hard-working groups as the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce are pushing this amendment.

CON: Equally outspoken are the opponents who say it would cause needless expense when money is already short. More time in session means more chances to spend money. Proposed salary still is not enough to attract top-notch talent, but "expenses of office" could open the door to "fat-catting" with public funds. Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo is the recognized spokesman for the "antis" which include some other lawmakers and other groups.

2. WOULD ALLOW COUNTIES to extend participation in their retirement, disability and death compensation plans to elective officials of the county and precinct. Present arrangement covers only appointive officials and employees of the county.

PRO: It is a permissive law. No county has to do it unless the voters say so. It would give elective officials the same privileges as appointees, be an attraction to office.

CON: It sets no requirement for length of service. An official might serve one term — or less — and receive benefits.

3. WOULD ALLOW THE COUNTY Commissioners Court to fill vacancies in the office of County Judge and justices of the Peace only until the next general election. Presently such appointments are for the remainder of the unexpired term, up to four years.

PRO: It would give voters the right to choose their own replacement to office as soon as possible.

CON: Since campaigns are so costly, there would be less incentive to run for the office for only a two-year-term.

4. WOULD PROVIDE FOR automatic resignation of a district, county and precinct official who announces for any other public office more than one year before the end of his term in office.

PRO: It would keep officials on the job rather than out campaigning for some other office.

CON: It would discriminate against district, county and precinct officials since other officials — U. S. Senators, state senators, railroad commissioners and others with more than two-year terms — can run for another office in mid-term.

5. WOULD ALLOW HOME RULE cities to extend terms of their elective and appointive officials from two years to four years.

PRO: It is permissive; each city can make its own decision. Two-year terms hardly allow an official time to get a program started before he has to get out and run again.

CON: Elections every two years give voters more control, build up citizen interest in government.

6. WOULD PROVIDE PENSIONS not to exceed $80 a month for retired Texas Rangers and widows of Rangers who retired before the 1947 State Employees Retirement System was established. Money would come from the Confederate Pension Fund.

PRO: Since funds are available, it would put no extra burden on taxpayers. Protective dating clause would prevent marrying for pensions.

CON: It would allow ex-Rangers to receive pensions for as little as two years' service and with no payments on their part, a more generous arrangement than is provided for other state employees.

7. WOULD ALLOW Legislature to appropriate money for advertising the advantages of Texas in nationally circulated publications. Use of the name or picture of any living state official would be prohibited, and public funds would have to be matched by private funds.

PRO: Texas is one of only three states with out a state program to attract tourists and industry. Proponents say it would pay for itself many times by bringing new money into the state.

CON: This should be handled by the businesses who would benefit through their trade associations, chambers of commerce, etc.

8. WOULD ALLOW the Legislature to appropriate money to pay for medical care for people who receive old age assistance, aid to the blind and aid to dependent children.

PRO: It would provide help for people whose small monthly checks cannot possibly cover medical emergencies. Since payments would be made only to the vendor (doctor, hospital, or what not), the money could be used only for its intended purpose.

CON: It would cost the state an estimated $9,000,000, with no limit on how much it could drain from the Treasury. It would mean double taxation for cities and counties already providing medical care for their needy.

9. WOULD ALLOW the Legislature to authorize creation of hospital districts in Amarillo, Wichita County and Jefferson County.

PRO: It is permissive. People in the affected areas could decide what they want to do with it.

CON: Proposed amendment is

DOUBLE STAMPS TUESDAY

Slam-Bang Offense Wins 1-AA Tilt

In the dadblamedest offensive battle of this year, with more ulcers startel, the Canyon Eagles won their first District 1-AA game of the season by a score of 21-18 over the Dalhart Wolves Friday night in Dalhart.

The game was actually split into two parts, with the first half belonging to Canyon and the second half to Dalhart. And the ulcers came at the very end, when Dalhart had a first down on the Canyon one-yard line with nearly one minute left to play—and failed to get the ball over the goal line.

The Eagles scored twice in the first quarter and once in the second, and Eddie Boydston kicked all three extra points like a machine. The Wolves scored once in the first quarter and twice in the third, and missed all three chances for extra points.

The two teams combined ran up a total of more yards rushing than were made by both teams in the Slaton and Hereford games this year. The rushing total in the Dalhart game was 739 yards.

The Eagles made 329 of the yards and the Wolves made 410. But the most amazing total of all was the 314 yards made by Dalhart's Ronnie Ledbetter. The shifty, fast Wolf made his yardage in 29 carries, and averaged 10.82 yards per carry.

Even though Dalhart probably had the faster team, the Eagles were able to score from far out. The first touchdown was a 75-yard run by Ronnie Huyck, and the second was on a 76-yard run by Jerry Richardson. The third was a one-yard plunge by Larry Brotherton.

Dalhart's scores came from a 60-yard run by Ledbetter, a one-yard buck by David Peebles and a 65-yard run by Ledbetter.

The opening plays of the game did not predict the offensive battle to come. They more likely showed a defensive fight.

The Eagles got the opening kickoff and lost the ball on a fumble on the second play from scrimmage. Then Dalhart lost the ball on a fumble on the first play.

In the second series of down, Canyon was held to six yards in three plays and punted. Dalhart was penalized 15 yards for holding, and needed 25 yards for a first down—but made 24 and punted.

And there's where the first touchdown showed up.

With the ball on the Canyon 25, Huyck scooted and shuffled and raced to the goal. He was tackled just as he crossed the line, but the score had been made. The clock showed 7:26 left in the first quarter when he scored.

Dalhart picked up one first down after the kickoff, then had to punt on the second series of downs. Canyon had to punt back after three plays.

Taking off from the Dalhart 33, Ledbetter ran three yards, then four yards, then 60 yards and scored. He tried to push his luck just a bit further by running the extra point, but was stopped short of the goal line. The clock showed 2:33 in the first quarter and the scoreboard showed 7-6 for Canyon.

And here Canyon went again. Dalhart kicked off, Canyon moved the ball to the 24 in two plays, and Richardson flew 76 yards to the goal line with 1:06 left in the quarter. Boydston's kick gave Canyon a 14-6 lead.

Dalhart lost the ball on a fumble after the second play and the Eagles began a drive that went through the first quarter into the second and ended in a touchdown. Another amazing statistic showed up at the end of the first quarter. Canyon had 191 yards rushing and only two first downs. Dalhart had 130 yards rushing and only two first downs.

Canyon got the ball on the Dalhart 31 and the team was penalized to the 45 for holding and then to the 50 for being offside. Richardson made up most of the loss on an 18-yard run, then Boydston and Richardson alternated to pick up a first down on the Dalhart 19. Richardson took off for 16 more yards to the three for another first down.

Chuck Nester picked up two more yards and Brotherton plunged over from the one for the score. Boydston's kick was good and the scoreboard clock showed 9:33 left until the half.

The rest of the quarter was taken up by the teams battling in midfield, neither being able to get inside the opposition 40.

At the end of the first half, Canyon had seven first downs to three, 241 yards rushing to 167, and 14 yards passing to seven.

But the second half told a different story. On the first play, Ledbetter switched ends of the field, picking up a first down on a run to the Canyon 33.

Ledbetter, Roy Suddarth and Peebles traded about carrying the ball, and moved down to the one in six plays. Peebles went over with 8:29 left in the quarter.

Dalhart lined up to kick the extra point, and suffered a five-yard penalty for taking too much time. They lined up again on the eight, as if to kick, but the ball went to "Butch" Brown, the supposed kicker, who attempted a pass that failed. Canyon had a 21-12 lead.

Boydston took the kickoff on the 17 and ran to the Dalhart 45, but the first of a number of offense-killing penalties was called. The penalty, for clipping, put the ball on the Canyon 39 and the Eagles kicked on fourth down.

Dalhart started rolling. From the Dalhart 34, the Wolves moved to the Canyon 25 in nine plays, but Ledbetter lost the ball on a fumble on the 10th play at the 22.

On the next play, Huyck took off on the same play he scored on at the first of the game, but was caught from behind after running 28 yards to the 50. The Eagles' offense was bogged down again with a 15-yard penalty and Dalhart got the ball on the Dumas 33 from a kick.

Suddarth carried to the 35, then Ledbetter took off on his 65-yard sprint to the goal line. Brown tried to kick, but it was no good. The clock showed 42 seconds left in the quarter.

Canyon's next offensive series was stopped by another 15-yard penalty, but the Wolves were held on their own 30 and forced to kick.

It looked as if the Eagles might go. They moved from the Canyon 24 to the 42 for a first down, then moved to the 43. An offside penalty put the ball back to the 38, but Richardson ran to a first down on the Dalhart 45.

But a 15-yard penalty put the ball back to the Canyon 45. Richardson tried a pass once, then once again, but the second was intercepted by Peebles on the 35 and he ran it back to the Dalhart 48. The Wolves were forced to kick.

And here came the Wolves. They made a first down in three plays on the Canyon 34, another on the 12 on a 22-yard run by Ledbetter. Then Ledbetter and Brown teamed up to make a first down on the one with 52 seconds left in the game.

The Eagles jumped into a goal line defense with almost everyone playing on the line. Ledbetter tried going up the middle and lost one yard. Peebles tried the middle and lost another. Then Brown tried the middle and gained enough to leave the ball with its nose about three inches short of the goal line. The clock ran out while the pileup was being untangled.

During the second half, Dalhart made 11 first downs to three for Canyon, and picked up 243 yards to 88 for Canyon.

Trinity Tigers Dump Buffaloes 35-7 For Fifth WT Defeat of Season

West Texas State took to the air Saturday night, but 14 completed passes were not enough to offset the Trinity Tiger attack that led to the Buffaloes' fifth defeat of the season, 35-7.

The Tigers' quarterback, Wes Gideon, was no slouch at passing, either. He passed for three of the Trinity touchdowns, and to prove other abilities, ran for the first score of the game.

Gideon scored on a two-yard run, passed 21 yards to Walter Knowles, 23 yards to Ronnie Melling, 24 yards to Joe Young, kicked two extra points and passed to Jack Hays for two extra points.

Fullback Jerry Eddy punched over from the one for the other

Trinity score and quarterback Charles Patterson kicked one extra point.

WT's lone touchdown was set up when tackle Jim Landrum recovered a Trinity fumble on the Tiger 21. Ricky Mantooth passed to John Hall on fourth down on the four yard line. Hall lateraled to Don Blair, who ran over for the score. Harry Ward kicked the extra point.

West Texas stopped two Trinity drives in the first quarter, and threatened by reaching the Tiger 22.

Penalties called back two Trinity touchdowns, and a near-continuous wave of the red flag kept Trinity hopping. The penalties, and the great number of passes thrown, made the game a slow one. It took nearly three hours to play it. Statistics of the game were:

Buff Freshmen Play McMurry

West Texas State's freshman football team gets a chance to redeem itself Thursday night when the young Buffs meet McMurry's "B" team at Buffalo Stadium. Kick-off time is 8 o'clock and admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

After outclassing Abilene Christian's "B" team in a scoreless first half, the Buffs opened the gates and allowed the Abilene school to take a 38-0 victory two weeks ago. That was the first appearance of the highly-touted West Texas club and it is anxious to get another chance.

Coaches Jackie Weldon and Joe Brooks will have fewer injuries than in the opener. Five probable starters missed the first game but most of them have recovered. Back for duty are Bill Wallace, 165-pound fifty-running halfback from Seminole; Frank Thrasher, 190-pound center from Matador; Al McClellan, Gruver tackle; Dexter Whittaker, Graham end. Two Phillips boys, end Johnny Cook and quarterback Sammy Gaines, probably will still be on the sidelines.

Other Buff freshman games on the docket are with Texas Tech at Lubbock, Nov. 1, and Hardin-Simmons at Abilene, Nov. 14.

Passenger cars in the U. S. travel an average of 9,350 miles per year.

The Lowest Cost - - Most Concentrated Form of Nitrogen..

ADVANTAGES OF ANHYDROUS AMMONIA

1. COSTS LESS

COSTS LESS than other forms of nitrogen. Anhydrous ammonia is made by combining nitrogen taken from the air with hydrogen.

2. MOST CONCENTRATED FORM OF NITROGEN

82% nitrogen is there for you to apply to your crops!

3. EASY HANDLING

Anhydrous ammonia flows under its own pressure and is quickly and easily applied to the soil. It fits in with other modern farm operations that use machines to do the heavy work.

4. ANHYDROUS AMMONIA NITROGEN SAVES ON:

1. Freight costs
2. Bagging costs
3. Labor of unloading, hauling, storage and applying on soil.

5. APPLICATION SEASON IS LONGER

Anhydrous Ammonia may be applied as a preplant, side-dressing or top-dressing. Because it combines with the soil and resists leaching at cool temperatures, ammonia may be safely applied in the Fall or Winter.

6. SUBSURFACE APPLICATION

With Anhydrous Ammonia below the surface, plants will root deeper and utilize the nitrogen even when dry weather might prevent their absorbing a surface-applied solid fertilizer. Deep application not only encourages a deep root system for dry weather insurance, but also keeps the fertilizer below the germination level of weed seed.

Travel Authority Urges Tourettes

Vacationing pleasures can be extended by taking weekend tourettes throughout the year, members of the Canyon High School Chapter of Future Homemakers of America were advised by noted travel authority Carol Lane.

Miss Lane, women's travel director of Shell Oil Company, noted that within a 200 mile radius of every home there are spots of scenic, historic or educational interests that make ideal locales for one to three day tourettes.

"Most often we tend to overlook the close-by places — but they're right in our own backyard, ready to be discovered and enjoyed on leisurely weekend motor trips," she said in her talk, made last Wednesday in the high school auditorium.

Miss Lane, who travels more than 60,000 miles annually searching for and testing new travel ideas, spoke on the subject, "Auto-Magic Vacationing."

During her talk she explained to her audience how to pre-plan for a longer vacation and how to budget such a trip. Suggestions on the best way of traveling with children and helpful hints were other highlights of Miss Lane's talk.

She demonstrated how to pack a complete two-week wardrobe into just one 26-inch suitcase by filing her clothes by layers systematically with the assistance of "luggage leaves," or dividers, to separate the layers.

Linda Green, vice president, introduced the speaker.

Special guests were the home-making teachers and FHA chapters from Tulia and Happy, the Canyon Chapter of Future Teachers of America and their sponsor, Mary Carter, and mothers of the FHA girls. Judy Taylor, president of the club, introduced the guests.

Mrs. Brasuel Hosts Mothers-in-Law

Mrs. Hattie Brasuel was hostess for the Canyon Mother-in-Law Club recently.

During the business hour, over which Mrs. C. W. Dunn presided, Mrs. R. D. Lowry led the theme song. Mrs. G. B. Combs gave the devotional and Mrs. R. T. Bowman led the prayer.

Mrs. T. T. Fain gave the secretary's report. Sixteen members answered roll call. Three visitors were present.

At the social hour, Mrs. Mary Burtz, Mrs. Lowry and Mrs. E. C. Penick gave readings.

Refreshments of cherry pudding, whipped cream, sandwiches, coffee and tea were served to Mrs. Dunn, Mrs. Bowman, Mrs. Fain, Mrs. Combs, Mrs. Lowry, Mrs. G. W. Rose, Mrs. H. C. Hudson, Mrs. E. E. Gidden, Mrs. W. I. Steen, Mrs. T. V. Slack, Mrs. Penick, Bessie Eby, Mrs. Burtz, Mrs. Brasuel, Mrs. C. H. Stratton, and Mrs. E. C. Hawes.

The group will meet in the home of Mrs. Stratton on Nov. 13.

Hodges, Williams Present HD Skit

Mrs. R. A. Hodges and Mrs. Marion Williams presented a skit for members of the Canyon Home Demonstration Club Friday in the home of Mrs. D. S. Owens.

The skit was on the Texas Home Demonstration Association convention which Mrs. Hodges and Mrs. Williams attended in August.

Favorite cookie recipes were exchanged by the members. Refreshments were served to four guests and 12 members.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. E. L. Hardaway Nov. 7.

Alpha Chi Takes 30 New Members

Seniors initiated were Erwin Davlin, Joy Feuerschutz, Sherbie Grant Gangwere, and Gene Reid, all of Amarillo, Clara Zachary of Canyon, and Mildred Sue Talley of Clarendon.

New junior members are Anna Lou Ashby, Lavelle Kelly, Evelyn Price, Diane Prichard Duncan, and Don Wells, all of Canyon, Hal Grider, Jerre Hull, Pat Koontz, Freddy McCarty, and Rhea Frank Raines, all of Amarillo, William E. Conway and Marcus Robinson Conway of Happy.

News is the plural of the word "new." The Greeks' word for it was "neos" and it became in Anglo-Saxon "neowe" and later in middle English "news." It is akin to the French "nouvelles."

More people travel by automobile than by all other means of transportation combined.

Mrs. Jack Coffman and daughter, Mrs. Lucy Stinson, of Springfield, Mo., returned home Sunday after a two week visit with her sister, Mrs. W. I. Wester. Also guests in Mrs. Wester's home were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wester and Mr. and Mrs. Iva Wester.
